

START MILK DRIVE

"White Drink of Health" Campaign Starts Tomorrow.

Will Urge Value of Lactic Acid as Food.

MANY INTERESTING EXHIBITS

Speakers Will Address Children at City Schools.

Play, "Milk Fairies," at Auditorium Friday Night.

The "white drink of health" campaign will begin in Topeka tomorrow morning under the auspices of the United States department of agriculture. It will run one week.

Speakers will give talks at the public schools; moving picture films will be shown; demonstrations conducted in store windows, pageants presented and exhibits shown on Kansas avenue. The disbursement of the city has already informally agreed not to hike milk prices in the event the campaign causes an abnormal demand.

The talks to the children in the schools will be in story form for the lower grades, and will explain the healthful benefits of milk to growing boys and girls, as well as to older folks. A film entitled "Nature's Best Food" will be shown at the Novelty tomorrow, at the Isis Thursday, at the Orpheum Friday and at other theaters on subsequent days.

Cooking Demonstrations. In various store windows cooking of food with milk will be demonstrated. The food will also be exhibited after cooking and recipe books containing instructions for making various dishes with milk will be given away free of charge.

The play, "Milk Fairies," will be shown in the city auditorium Friday night and, if the weather permits, will be given in pageant form on the state house grounds Saturday afternoon. The story is about a little boy who dislikes milk. After a scolding from his mother he goes out of doors and falls asleep in the sunshine. Then come the milk fairies representing sugar, fat and all the other constituents of milk and present its beneficial effects to him in such a manner that when he awakes he immediately runs in the house and asks his mother for a glass of the "white drink of health."

Cow Exhibit at State Journal. One of the most interesting exhibits of the week will be a prize producing cow belonging to Ira Romig, a farmer living southwest of the city. The animal will be placed in a modern stall in front of The State Journal building and will be milked with an electric milking machine every afternoon. The last three days of the campaign a "scrub" cow will be placed on exhibit to show the advantage of owning blooded stock.

Miss Jessie M. Hoover, milk utilization expert with the department of agriculture, is in the city and the committee have announced that all is in readiness for the campaign. Miss Hoover, who was born near Topeka, has just finished conducting a campaign in Kansas City with great success.

Emporia Pastor Sworn In as Mayor Wearing Jeans

Women in Gingham Gowns Attended Ceremony—Poem on Overalls by Walt Mason Part of the Ceremony—Inaugural Ball Tonight With New Mode as Correct Attire.

Emporia, Kan., April 20.—Mayor J. C. Brogan, who is also pastor of Grace Methodist church here, was inaugurated wearing overalls today. The inauguration which took place in front of the city hall, was preceded by a parade in which nearly every one wore blue denim, khaki or old clothes. Before the mayor was sworn into office, O. S. Samuel, president of the local overalls club, read a poem on overalls by Walt Mason, Emporia's grose poet. Women in gingham, a few wearing overalls, took part in the demonstration. Students in the College of St. Louis, the Kansas State Normal school and the high school took part in the parade, which was headed by a band. An overall dance is to be held tonight.

Quoted at $43.50 in N. J. Newark, April 20.—Overalls at $43.50 a pair is the latest quotation in the nation's war on high price clothing. A newspaper advertisement in Newark, N. J., today offered "substantial overalls in fashionable one-piece models, suitable alike for dress, for office work, for brick laying, for banking, bookmaking, book keeping, fishing, school, gardening, banquets, church and the theater" at $22.50, but the store with "hole and solid gold, sterling silver, and French enamel buckles" were $40, and those "with rhinestone buckles, $43.50."

Wholesalers Hike Prices. Kansas City, Mo., April 20.—An increase of $6 a dozen in the price of overalls within sixty days unless the "overall revolt" subsides, was predicted by executive heads of two large wholesale establishments here. The demand, they said, cannot be met. As a result prices are bound to go up. Retailers here say they make a profit of from 60 cents to $1 on a suit.

CLEAN UP LEAVENWORTH

Provost Guard Raids Gambling Dens—Soldiers Patrol City.

Leavenworth, Kan., April 20.—Frank Connors, patrolman, has been suspended at roll call at the Leavenworth police department, a provost guard of soldiers from the Fort Leavenworth command was established in this city and raids were conducted right and left on gambling dens, all the result of charges preferred by Maj. Charles B. Stone, recreation and education officer, who announced that "the Fort Leavenworth military authorities have decided to take drastic steps in order that soldiers must come to Leavenworth without being enticed into gambling places."

Connors' suspension came immediately after he was identified by Capt. E. M. Landrum, who had been detailed to intelligence duty. The army officer declared Connors, in full uniform and on duty, was present while a game was in full swing at one Leavenworth dive. The suspended patrolman only recently had reinstated as a member of the department by the mayor and city commissioners.

The provost guard, under command of Captain Landrum, was established last night for its first tour of duty. The guard has been instructed to patrol the city under directions of the Leavenworth police chief.

Thomas Hogan was the first man to be arrested following investigation of Major Stone's charges. The warrant for his arrest was sworn out by Captain Landrum, the officer to whom Hogan admitted, it is alleged, that Sgt. Michael Lucas lost $300 in his place on the night previous to the supply sergeant's suicide. An investigation board found that Sergeant Lucas committed suicide April 6, because of a shortage in company funds. Properties of two alleged gambling resorts in this city were also placed under arrest last night.

Among others taken into custody as the result of raids up on alleged gambling resorts is Andrew Curry, who until very recently was a member of the Leavenworth police department. When Major Stone appeared at police headquarters, both Mayor Davis and the police chief, Lewis Young, expressed a willingness to co-operate with the military authorities.

IT'S JUST A LITTLE "HENRY."

But Ford Car Was Subject of Hot Suit Here Today.

The same Ford car which struck and killed Mrs. Anna Donnelly at Fifth and Kansas avenues last winter, was the subject of a hotly contested law suit in the court of Topeka today. The Fairmount Creamery company of Omaha, Neb., claimed the machine was stolen in that city last fall. It was owned by E. B. Kellam of Topeka. Judge R. M. Lee decided in favor of the Omaha firm and Kellam will be obliged to return the car to the Fairmount Creamery company.

Kellam testified he purchased the car from Sgt. William Kiely of the police force. Kiely purchased the machine from Eliza Scott, Topeka attorney. Eliza Scott defended Walter Monroe, owner and driver of the machine when it struck and killed Mrs. Donnelly. Monroe stood trial in district court on a charge of manslaughter. After the trial Scott became owner of the Ford. Where Monroe got the car is not known. Who will finally pay for the car Kellam was obliged to turn over is still another unsolved problem.

There is another lawsuit for which this Ford is responsible. The husband of the late Mrs. Donnelly has filed a suit in district court for $10,000 against the city of Topeka, the Topeka Railway company and Walter Monroe. In the suit, Monroe is charged with careless driving the night of the accident; the Topeka Railway company is charged with careless piling of bricks at the corner of Fifth and Kansas avenues, and the city of Topeka is charged with negligence in not providing proper safeguards around the bricks.

ARE NOT UNITED

Outlaw Switchmen Want Hearings Held Separately.

Federal Board Overrules Demand 'Regular' Brotherhoods.

Washington, April 20.—President Wilson and his cabinet today discussed the railroad strike and reviewed measures taken to halt it during the past week.

Following the meeting cabinet members expressed satisfaction with the government's course and indicated they believed the danger of a railroad tieup is over.

The president presided at the meeting, which was held in his study, and lasted an hour and a quarter. James Eubanks and W. A. Robinson, representing yardmen's associations of St. Louis and Chicago, respectively, today filed with the railroad labor board written requests for investigation of their claims for higher wages.

They, like McHugh, speak for the so-called "outlaw" strikers' organization. Each asked for a hearing by the board separately from the hearing to be granted officials of eighteen rail unions.

Chairman Barton of the board overruled the protest of Doak of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen against acceptance of the yardmen's requests. Barton said the board could not refuse to receive requests for action but that after "would decide whether it should hear the 'outlaws' separately. He emphasized that under the rulings of the board the 'outlaws' must comply with the law which is taken to mean they must return to work.

Immediately after receipt of the communications, the board began hearing arguments for the wage increases asked by the established unions. Doak opened the argument.

War Veterans Adopt Plan. Ottawa, Ont., April 20.—The great war veterans' association, thru its dominion executive, has voted to organize itself into an "overall brigade."

OVERALL CRAZE SPREADS HERE

High School Boys Brave Faculty Frowns and Wear 'Em.

Enthusiasm for the blue denim garments has broken out among high school boys to the extent that more than one hundred were wearing overalls today. Altho the wearing of overalls was not forbidden at the high school, the principal was not encouraged by Principal Cook and faculty members, who thought the purchase of overalls by high school boys would be more of an extravagance than a saving.

In the procession of students from one of the high school buildings an observer not understanding the overall movement might have thought that a number of the boys were wearing uniforms in keeping with mechanical or agricultural courses. Gingham dresses are in evidence among the high school girls, but springtime is the reason, rather than economy.

"It's a cinch we're going to wear overalls," one enthusiastic member of the H. S. O. club said this morning. "You see we fellows must have because we can't afford new clothes and our old ones are wearing out. Then these fellows enjoy being able to loaf on the steps or other dusty places without having to think of being clean."

The manual training instructors, J. Hoehner and A. H. Winters, are ultra-fashionable for they were easily the first ones of the high school to be noticed wearing overalls. In fact, they have worn them at their work for several years. Fashion, practicality and economy are happily combined for them, they consider.

Attempts were being made today to organize an overall club in the office of the auditor of disbursements at the Santa Fe. It was agreed that when fifty signers had been obtained the members will don the denim. So far eighteen names had been obtained. The telegraph department is 100 per cent denimized.

A member of the jury in Judge George H. Whitcomb's division of the district court appeared in overalls this morning.

JEALOUS OF DIVORCED WIFE.

So Fred Gilbert Beats Up Boarder, 38 Years Her Senior.

A divorce and a difference of thirty-eight years wouldn't lock jealousy out of the heart of Fred Gilbert, 20, divorced husband of Beatie Estes.

Gilbert told Judge Rad M. Lee in the court of Topeka today that he couldn't bear the idea that Abe Alfrey, 58, was boarding with his wife at their home on North Kansas avenue.

"It worried me, judge," said Gilbert, "and Sunday night I just couldn't stand it any longer and kicked the door down."

Then Gilbert pointed to the aged Alfrey with his arm in a sling. "You can see what I did," Alfrey testified that when Gilbert broke into the house he was sitting in the kitchen with his coat off. He said Gilbert struck him on the arm, dislocating his shoulder blade and "beat him up" severely before the green in the young man's eyes which turned to red, returned to their normal color and he remembered the differences in their ages. Judge Lee sentenced Gilbert to 90 days in the county jail.

MEANS WAR SAY LABOR CHIEFS. Gary Plan Abolishing Strikes Decries Unions of Only Weapon.

Chicago, April 20.—Adoption of proposals of Judge E. H. Gary, of the United States steel corporation to have the government control and regulate labor unions would mean an "open rebellion," labor leaders here said today.

"Labor is opposed to any interference in its right to strike," said H. C. Blebl, secretary-treasurer of the Chicago Iron and Steel Workers union. "The strike is the last weapon the worker has and any attempt to interfere with it would mean an open rebellion by all labor."

MEASLES EPIDEMIC DYING OUT

Only Seven New Cases Monday Against Fourteen Released.

The measles epidemic apparently is dying out.

Only seven new cases came to the attention of the city health department Monday, as opposed to fourteen released. Only two cases were reported this morning. It is believed, however, that there are scores of cases in the city which have not been reported by the families concerned.
